Ted has to change his plans

WYCOMBE Wanderers manager Ted Powell has had to change his plans for tomorrow (Saturday). Ted was hoping to take his squad to watch F.A. Cup opponents Reading play York City at Elm Park but his 'spying mission' was foiled when the Rothmans Isthmian League gave the Blues a fixture against Southall.

Originally, Wanderers were due to meet Croydon at home tomorrow. But they are involved in the London Senior Cup and so it seemed the Blues had a free Saturday.

Earlier this week, however, the league arranged a home fixture against Southall for Wycombe and so Ted is likely to make the trip to Reading on his own while assistant manager John Reardon takes charge of the side tomorrow.

The Southall game will give Wanderers more match practice before the Reading tie next week and they have the chance of recording their first 'double' of the season. Wanderers won 2-1 at Western Road back in September with Dylan Evans and Tony Horseman scoring the goals.

RECORD FEE

Playing for Southall that night was Alan Devonshire but soon afterwards he signed professional forms for West Ham. The fee of £5,000 was an Isthmian League record and Devonshire has made a big impression at Upton Park, playing in the first team regularly.

He was seen on television last week taking part in the Hammers' shock 2-0 win over Manchester United at Old Trafford.

Southall have won only one of their last 12 matches and are struggling to find any consistency. One player who has been consistent, however, is leading goalscorer Derek Harris. A former Wycombe forward, Derek has 15 goals to his credit this season including 12 in the league.

Wanderers have a doubt over Tony Horseman who suffered a knock in training on Tuesday, but Howard Kettleborough, who missed last week's 1-0 defeat at Sutton, should be fit to return up front.
